BRAZIL GIVEN OFFER TO BUY FIRST-LINE F-16 FIGHTERS

(Washington, D.C.) The Defense Security Cooperation Agency today noted the presentation to the Government of Brazil of an offer to sell advanced F-16 block 50/52 fighters with associated weapons and equipment, to include the AMRAAM missile. The F-16 Fighting Falcon is the world's most successful fighter aircraft. It has operated in a variety of challenging conditions around the world, to include combat in Kosovo, Afghanistan, Iraq and Bosnia. In addition to the USAF, 22 other countries rely upon the F-16.

This US offer marks a new foundation for building an even stronger relationship between our air forces—a relationship built on greater trust and respect for the capabilities of the Brazilian Air Force.
